

Investigations on the Atmospheric Circulation above Africa

| CONTENTS:                                                                        | Page |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|
| Zusammenfassung                                                                  | 4    |
| Abstract                                                                         | 5    |
| A. ZONAL WINDS ABOVE EASTERN AFRICA (ALONG 32°E)by J.-O. STRÜNING        |      |
| 1. Observational Data                                                            | 7    |
| 2. Time-Altitude Cross-Sections                                                  | 9    |
| 3. Monthly Meridional Cross-Sections                                             | 15   |
| B. ATMOSPHERIC CIRCULATION ABOVE AFRICA *)by H. FLOHN and J.-O. STRÜNING |      |
| 1. Introduction                                                                  | 33   |
| 2. Atmospheric Heat Budget                                                       | 34   |
| 3. Seasonal Displacements                                                        | 36   |
| 4. Zonal Wind Systems and Temperature Pattern                                    | 42   |
| 5. Interpretation and Conclusions                                                | 49   |
| References                                                                   | 53   |
| List of Figures                                                                  | 55   |

*) Lecture given by H. Flohn at the Hydrometeorological Service at Moscow, September 1967, and at the Conference on Tropical Meteorology at Caracas (Venezuela), November 1967